But the error of our neighbor does not end bere. He makes the observation wa have quoted above simply by way of excusing himself for the scphiis try he employed in defeace of equatter-sovereignty the other day with such alarming consequences to the fabric of society and of human affairs generally, letimating that his purpose in the fallacy we exposed was to show that the South has nothing to lose by squatter-sovereignty rather than to show that quanter-sovereignty rather than to show that quanter-sovereignty are constitutionally right, which, however, be still religionely beliaves. We are willing to lat our neighbor off in the matter of the fallacy, as he has the grace to be anhamed of it; but we cannot suffer the predential or commercial view for which he has exchanged it to pass without a word of earnest protect.
